Prime Minister Clement Attlee joined cabinet members Ernest Bevin and Sir Stafford Cripps on the sick list. Bedded down with a bad chill, he is "progressing satisfactorily" and is expected back at work in a couple of days.

CHARLES DE GAULLE

British health minister Anthony Bevin flew to Rome for a 10-day visit as guest of the Italian government. With him is his wife, better known as Miss Jenny Lee, member of parliament.

Gen. Charles de Gaulle, former Free French wartime leader, took a poke at the North Atlantic Pact. At a rally in St. Malo, Brittany, France, he said the Pact is its present form does not offer any guarantee of European security. "It is essential that those with whom we have bound ourselves should bind themselves with us."

American ambassador to China, A. Leighton Stuart, took off by plane from Nanking, headed for the United States. He left Nanking's heavily-guarded inner airport just 25 minutes before waiting sirens signalled an air-raid over the Nanking area.

Health

Swedish hospitals are trying out a substitute for the iron lung which is made of a plastic material. Hope is that polio sufferers will be able to occupy ordinary hospital beds instead of the tent-like fixtures in which they are now kept.

Britain

Great Britain exported a record total of $50,000,000 worth of bicycles and motor cycles during the first half of 1949. This is an increase of $10,000,000 over the same period last year.

Third television transmitter in Britain is now being planned near Huddersfield, Yorkshire. When it is finished officials estimate that more than 10,000,000 Britons will spend their evenings getting "television spread." Night now, Britain has one television transmitter, will have a second going in November.

Amethyst Near Safety After Yangtze Escape

ABOARD HMS JAMAICA AT SEA, Aug. 2.—(AP)—The battered little sloop Amethyst limped toward Hong Kong today where a rousing welcome awaits the ship and crew who brought her to freedom from Chinese Communist gunfire.

Wife Charges Missing Mate

CALGARY, Aug. 2.—(CP)—A charge of common assault has been laid against Ernest McNeven, missing Freddie Alts, farmer who disappeared from his home last Monday and has not been seen since.

The charge was laid in Calgary by McNeven's wife, who told police her husband struck her during an argument just before McNeven disappeared.

She said McNeven left the house to fetch a bull from a neighboring farm. When he left, she went to her brother's farm just down the road. A short time later, the McNeven farm home burst into the ground.

Police said no trace has been found of McNeven since Monday morning. A careful search of the area of the farm home showed he was not in the house at the time of the fire.

Britons Go Short On Matches, Smokes

LONDON, Aug. 2.—(CP)—Britain's cut in dollar purchases means not only fewer cigarettes, but fewer matches. The British match firm, which has had a 10 per cent cut in its dollar allocation for buying Canadian timber, that means 400,000 fewer boxes of matches a day.

The Nation

Local trading at Norway House, in Manitoba is going to take a beating. Nearly 600 Cree Indians are going to cut their cost of living and have organized a credit union to buy goods wholesale instead of at the trading post.

Beekkeepers heard good news at the annual Manitoba provincial field day of beekkeepers over the weekend. They were told by Frank R. Garland, president of Canadian Beekkeepers' Council, disposal of future honey crops will be easier because of Ontario's drought and subsequent cut in production of honey. Last year the federal government had to step in and buy surplus honey.

Fishermen on Lake Winnipeg aren't expected to make their 3,000,000 pound limit allowed by regulation before the end of the summer fishing season Aug. 6. Preliminary reports indicate that the summer's catch might not even reach 2,000,000 pounds.

Crime

A confessed jewel thief started police court officials by complaining that a woman ruined his reputation by shouting "thief" as he chased him after he stole $150 worth of rings from a Vancouver jewelry store. Said the judge: "And quite right, too."

CLEMENT ATLEE

Animals

Question of cruelty to live horses being shipped from Canada to Belgium for food is again before the Victoria branch of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. SPCA has been notified that Chinese live animals are being shipped, but the British SPCA says differently.

Whazzat?

A one-and-a-half ton truck at Ladysmith, B.C., started a lot of people when it caught fire, then blew its own horn and then backed itself 30 feet out of a garage into the open. Fire caused power cables to ground itself, and melting of instruments started a succession of queer tricks one of which caused the starter to turn itself over.

A squad of Spitfires will dip in rescue boats will be waiting at the wharf when the shell-riddled Hong Kong craft arrives in Hong Kong harbor tomorrow.

DSO FOR SKIPPER

The award of the Distinguished Service Order will be awarded to Cmdr John B. Kervin, skipper of the Amethyst, which escaped Saturday night from moorings on the Yangtze river, 60 miles below Nanking.

The award will be made with the personal approval of the King, who already has commended the crew for its gallantry in bringing the ship to safety.

The Amethyst had been pinned down in the Yangtze since April 20 when she was caught in Communist shore fire during a battle between British warships and Communist armies.

Forty-four dead

An Amethyst crew member who sailed aboard the Jamaica, which is escorting the Amethyst to Hong Kong, said the first three months of the voyage were spent mainly repairing damage inflicted by the Reds April 20. Forty-four British sailors lost their lives in that engagement.

U.S. Police Cases Increase Sharply

Total Far Ahead Of 1948, Near-Record Year In States

CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—(AP)—Infantile paralysis cases showed a sharp increase in some states in the last week, boosting the total far ahead of 1948, a near record year in the United States.

The number of police deaths for the first seven months of 1949, Associated Press survey showed, is about double the total up to August 1, 1948.

The survey showed approximately 8,000 cases and 442 deaths. However, data on fatalities was sketchy and incomplete in some states on the number of cases. Many communities, fearing epidemics in the heavy police months of August and September already have taken emergency measures. State health officials and leaders of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis are taking all precautions to prevent the outbreak or spread of the disease.

SECOND HIGHEST

The 27,600 police cases reported in 1948 were the second highest on record but up to August 1, 1949, the total was under 5,000. The worst police year was 1946 when about 30,000 cases were reported.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has advanced $2,000,000 to its 40 chapters up to August 1 this year, twice as much as granted in a similar period in 1948.

An outbreak in Munich, Ind., resulted in a ban on public gatherings including funeral services. Special medical teams have been organized in New York City and nearby Nassau county. Many communities across the country have conducted cleanup campaigns and sprayed DDT to stop flies. Special educational radio programs are planned for all stations in Oklahoma.

Probing Group Gets Approval

OTTAWA, Aug. 2.—(CP)—Hon. Vincent Massey, chairman of the royal commission delving into Canada's development in the field of art and science, today said his committee would submit a "reflect a widespread interest" in the commission's work.

"Some 30 briefs of national organizations which will appear before the five commissioners already have been received," he told a press conference. The briefs cover a variety of cultural activities, from the work of museums to town planning and national library development.

First of these briefs, that of the national museum, will be heard tomorrow when the commission starts its public hearings.

The commission will hold three days of hearings in Winnipeg, Oct. 17-19; two in Saskatoon, Oct. 17-18; three in Edmonton, Oct. 19-21; three in Vancouver, Oct. 24-26; two in Victoria, Oct. 28-29; two in Calgary, Nov. 1-2; and two in Regina Nov. 3-4.

Chinese Reds Make Gains

CANTON, China, Aug. 2.—(UPI)—Nationalist government sources admitted today that Communist thrusts southward from captured Changchew were threatening to drive wedge between Central and Southwest China.

The center of fighting has shifted to Western Hunan, province of the national defense ministry said, with Communist movements west of the Yangtze river like area assuming major proportions.

Aim of the Communist thrusts is to split Nationalist Gen. Chiang-Kai-shek's Central China command, based at Henanping, and Gen. Huai-sheng's Southwest China defense force based at the wartime capital of Chungking.

The Hunan area on the ball line toward Canton is quiet, government sources reported.

Aid Urged By Diplomat

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—(AP)—W. Averell Harriman, the Marshall plan's chief ambassador in Europe, today urged United States Congress to approve the administration's foreign aid program promptly to "prevent the growing generation from war."

Harriman made the appeal in testimony before the House of Representatives' foreign affairs committee.

Dean Acheson went into a baffle behind closed doors with members of the Senate armed services and foreign relations committee.

This combined group is expected to open hearings soon—perhaps tomorrow—on the armed aid program.

3 Are Killed Over Week-End

six miles south of Calgary, yesterday evening.

One Dixon, about 60 years of age, died en route to city hospital after his car left the road and crashed into a farm fence Monday evening.

DIES IN TAXI

Witnesses said Mr. Dixon did not appear seriously injured, and it is believed he died of heart seizure while taxi driver Carl Hoffman, of White Avenue Taxi, was driving him to hospital here.

Six-year-old Leonard Reid was killed as his farm home near Claresholm yesterday when run over by a truck driven by his father, Wesley Reid. No inquest will be held.

LOSES RIGHT LEG

Critically injured when her leg and arm were severely mangled under streetcar wheels, Mrs. Julia Block has had right leg amputated just below the hip and three fingers removed from her right hand.

She also suffered a fractured jaw, fractured skull and brain concussion.

In a spectacular accident which saw her auto crushed to less than three-foot width, between two streetcars and a trolley pole, Mrs. Block was thrown out of the car under the wheels of a west-bound street car.

Her son Gerald miraculously escaped serious injury.

Accident occurred at 7:35 last night at 82 avenue and 105 street.

WITNESSES' STORY

According to eye witnesses, the auto containing Mrs. Block and her son, believed to be driver, was going through the intersection from south to north when the crash occurred.

It is thought the driver did not see the east-bound streetcar and was attempting to cross the tracks in front of a streetcar approaching from the east.

East-bound car, operated by Motorman Ed London, struck the auto near the rear. West-bound tram, driven by Motorman Paul Chumilair, struck the front end of the car.

Side-ways, the automobile was rammed with terrific force between the steel trolley standard and the east-bound car.

THROWN UNDER TRAM

Mrs. Block was thrown out of the car beneath the wheels of the east-bound tram. Front wheels of the tram passed over her right leg.

So terrific was the impact that the front truck of the east-bound car was derailed, swinging the car toward the south side of the street.

Both streetcars stopped a few feet after the crash, but west-bound car had to be moved to remove the injured and bleeding woman.

While awaiting arrival of Smith's ambulance, Dr. R. H. Horner, one of the first to reach the site of the injured woman, stopped flow of blood from severed leg artery and gave Mrs. Block a sedative to relieve the pain.

She was then rushed to University hospital.

Driver of the auto managed to thrust himself clear of both streetcars when the accident occurred.

AUTO TOTAL WRECK

Auto was a total wreck. No passengers were hurt on either streetcar.

Eight-year-old Jimmy Vater, 12315 88 street, fell off rear of a street car on 90 street Monday afternoon.

Police said no one witnessed accident and first alarm came when Motorman D. A. O'neal heard a shout from a passenger and stopped the car to find the boy lying on the tracks.

Bleeding from the ears, he was rushed to Royal Alexandra hospital for skull X-rays.

Investigators believe the lad released the bolt on the rear door and fell as the door swung open.

CONDITION FAIR

He was reported in fair condition today.

Little information was available on the accident which injured Mr. Van Deelen, Mr. Shortreed, and Miss Boyer.

It was believed to have been a head-on collision late Sunday afternoon, believed caused by dust on the highway.

Injured were taken to University hospital, and both cars involved were towed into Edmonton.

All were reported resting comfortably today.

Stony Plain detachment of RCMP is investigating.

Tourists Hurt In Car Crash

LETHBRIDGE, Aug. 2.—(CP)—E. A. Sharpe of Toronto is in hospital here suffering from shock after a car and a truck collided.

Sharpe, 40, and a possible broken nose following an automobile accident near Brockton, Sunday.

Driver of the car, Dr. Edmund Cairns of Lethbridge suffered two broken ribs. Mrs. Cairns and her 14-month-old child received a few scratches and bruises.

The Cairns car was in collision with an auto from British Columbia. The Sharpes are visiting relatives here.

Man-Made Rain Still Not Success

Scientific Experiments With Dry Ice Show Some Gains

By Howard W. Blakeslee
Associated Press Science Editor

NEW YORK, Aug. 2—(AP)—Scientific rain making with dry ice, now in its third summer, is still unable to make useful rain.

The General Electric Company scientists who discovered the rain-making methods have gone back to their laboratories to study further the intricacies of clouds. They haven't given up, but their chief, Dr. Irving Langmuir, says:

"You can't make rain out of any old cloud, any old place, any old time."

SOME USEFULNESS

He and his staff do believe that some useful sharpshooters for rain is going to be possible.

The United States weather bureau has just finished three rain-making experiments, with the same negative results that they got last summer in Ohio when 150 attempts failed to show how to make rain of economic importance to farmers.

In central California the weather bureau tried to make it rain on planes flying over clouds, dropping dry ice pellets and also silver iodide particles.

RESULTS NEGATIVE

Similar experiments have just concluded around Mobile from the Mobile air base with Gulf Coast cumulus clouds as targets. These are the clouds that most frequently give the most rain.

All three experiments are on the negative side, in that to date the studies show nothing startling. The lack of this new rain information, however, is not concluded and the weather bureau hasn't given up. Plans are under way to work on tropical cumulus clouds and on stratus clouds next year. The idea is that even though no dramatic discovery is made some of the little facts gleaned later may lead to important results.

Scientific rain making has proved one new point beyond doubt, namely that clouds, their structure, why they rain and why they develop the power to cause disasters are a lot more intricate than had been supposed.

Death Follows South Fight

CALGARY, Aug. 2—(CP)—Carl A. Johnson of Calgary was charged with manslaughter Saturday night following the death of his friend, Alan Kravitz, 43, also of Calgary, in a barroom scuffle earlier Saturday.

Kravitz suffered head injuries when he fell to the pavement and died in hospital a short time later. Police said Kravitz and Johnson became embroiled in an argument over racing bets and began to fight in a lane behind a downtown hotel.

During the scuffle Johnson allegedly struck Kravitz twice in the face and knocked him to the pavement.

Even Ziegfeld Had Soft Spot

NEW YORK—You've probably heard a lot of yarns about the Great Ziegfeld. But not from me.

"How come?" the lady with the funny hat wants to know. "Didn't I know the impresario?"

Yes, I knew him and, what's more, I know most of the stories about the faded Flo that are worth telling, but unfortunately a lot of other people know them too, and over the years they've been told round and re-told.

The other day, however, I remembered across a story that has to do with a facet of Ziegfeld's personality which seldom gets talked about any more. And so, clear the decks and listen up, here's another anecdote about the Great Ziegfeld and let the exclamation points fall where they may.

A week before the Christmas of 1928, Ziegfeld put in a long distance call from Palm Beach to the company manager of his show, "Rin Rita" which was playing at the Illinois Theatre in Chicago.

"I want you to fix up a Christmas tree for my mother," he said.

BEST YOU CAN
"Any special instruction?" asked the manager.

"Get the best-looking tree you can," said Flo. "Decorate it real fancy and set it up in a private dining room at the Ambassador Hotel."

"On Christmas Eve call for my mother, take her to the hotel, and have her serve her a dinner with all the trimmings. Incidentally, I bought her a present that I want you to hang on the tree and I'm sending it up by plane. Another thing, the old lady likes fiddle music."

SPENT $8,000
Well, the manager had been with Ziegfeld long enough to know what the maestro meant when he said "Decorate it real fancy," and so he spent $8,000 to dress the tree, not counting the fee of the scenic designer who came on from New York to arrange the ornaments.

And among the glistening gewgaws was a pair of diamond earrings that Flo had sent up from Florida. On Christmas Eve, a limousine picked up the showman's mother at her apartment and took her to the Ambassador.

Dinner began with terrapin fresh from Chesapeake Bay, and a string quartet behind a clump of potted palms played her favorite songs.

Then, for the grand finale, the company manager pushed back a pair of sliding doors behind which stood the Christmas tree.

TOUCHING SCENE
Ziegfeld's mother looked over in the direction of the tree and smiled.

"I'm sure," she said softly, "it's exactly the way my boy would want it."

"Mr. Ziegfeld will phone you at your apartment a little later to wish you a Merry Christmas," said the manager.

Then he unhooked the diamond earrings, handed them to the blind woman and escorted her to the limousine.

GM PLANS NEW PLANT

Our Oil Provides Incentive for Firm

A large automotive firm is about to provide a new outlet for the products of Alberta's oil fields.

General Motors is building a new plant at London, Ont., for the production of diesel-electric locomotives.

C. E. Wilson, General Motors president at Detroit, said the plant would turn out one locomotive a day and the new engines would be of value as an outlet for Alberta oil.

The object of the move, Wilson said, is to make available to the Canadian railway modern and efficient motive power of the same type that has proved advantageous to American railways.

The plant-General Motors Diesel Ltd.—will employ about 1,000 persons and will draw parts and materials from Canadian sources.

Howard Society Work Costs $1,000 a Month

Any day you wish to visit Fort Saskatchewan jail, you'll find 350 to 380 men, and women who have broken the law and are serving jail sentences.

Prisoners are paying for their crimes in time.

The taxpayer is paying for those crimes with his own money.

Since it costs roughly $1,000 a year to keep a prisoner behind bars you can estimate that any day you visit the Fort, you're seeing $1,000 a day of taxpayer's money being spent on criminals.

Before the war the Fort's daily population was about 250.

In addition to the Fort, of course there's the jail at Lethbridge, and also the federal penitentiary at Prince Albert which serves Alberta and Saskatchewan.

It's this tremendous cost of keeping convicted criminals in jail that makes the John Howard Society feel that, financially at least, it's smart to prevent crime.

The Society seeks to reduce crime by aiding in the rehabilitation of ex-convicts, giving them a helping hand when they get out of jail, perhaps finding them jobs, and generally helping them to get straight.

So far, it costs the one-year-old JHS about $1,000 a month to operate.

Remember, that's what is spent in one day in keeping prisoners at the Fort.

With the Calgary branch of the society opening on Aug. 1, it's expected that operations will cost $18,000 a year.

Naturally much of that money is spent on salaries of staff members of the society who work with ex-convicts.

But a great deal of it goes toward meals and accommodation costs of ex-convicts who get out of jail and have no money and no jobs. The society keeps them—not all of them, though—until they are able to find work, or until they are dead losses as far as giving up crime is concerned—over several days while finding jobs.

HALF REHABILITATED

In the past year, the society here in Edmonton has interviewed about 1,000 ex-convicts. Of these, 500 have been found for 254 of those whom the society considers worthwhile.

And of those 254, 126 are in the employ of the society, or have been placed in jobs, not one report of criminal action by the ex-prisoner has yet been reported by an employer.

Since the average cost to the state of a habitual criminal with 10 convictions or more is $25,000, if just one of those 254 is diverted from a life of crime, the John Howard Society has saved a lot of taxpayer money.

The community is not fully aware of the situation that exists," said Walter Blackburn, executive secretary. "And we want it to be."

Society workers are interested in an ex-convict unless he is interested enough to contact them himself.

More and more of them are asking us for help as our work becomes known," said Mr. Blackburn.

CITIZENS ARE MEMBERS

But it takes money to expand John Howard services.

The society is backed financially by provincial and city government grants, by membership fees and by public donations.

In Edmonton, there are about 220 citizens who have paid $1 "membership" fee, with no obligations attached.

Pulp Mill Construction Starts Soon

Construction on a $9,000,000 pulp mill in Red Deer will get underway this fall or early spring.

F. A. Dowler, Red Deer, vice-president of Alberta Pulp Mills Ltd., announced today that plans are completed for a construction start. Water rights have been obtained on the Red Deer river and timber rights have been arranged with the provincial government.

Mr. Dowler expects the mill to handle 300 cords of wood a day to be supplied by the company which will be located west of the CPR station in Red Deer.

Celulose Engineering of Seattle is in charge of construction, with H. M. Simpson the chief engineer.

The pulp mill company, incorporated a year ago, was started by a group of Red Deer business men. Financing is being arranged with a Seattle firm.

VLA Awards Announced

Winners in the Veterans' Land Act Small Holding Development competition on the Pleasant View subdivision, Edmonton, have been announced by John Scott, district supervisor.

Prizes totaling $9,000 will be awarded to R. W. Knechtel, H. Marshall, M. Rudyk, E. Shafer, L. Lambourne, E. McKeat, J. P. White, W. Craig and S. Thomas.

Judging was carried out in July by a trio of judges consisting of a district and regional representative of the Veterans' Land Act and a horticulturist.

Competitions were for best development and improvement veterans have made in their small holdings, and subdivisions where they began operating them.

Alberta and district, including Pleasant View, has more than 1,000 small holders and eight subdivisions.

Winners of the Griferson subdivision, Edmonton, will be published shortly.

Judging of the best Veterans' Land Act subdivisions in Canada, in three separate classes, will commence in B.C. on August 1.

Hit-Run Driver Injures Woman

Mrs. Edith Danbrook, 10614 114 street, was taken to the General Hospital today for a broken leg after being struck by a hit and run driver at 109 street and Jasper intersection.

Mrs. Danbrook told police she was standing half way across the intersection waiting for an ambulance to pass when a car swept around the corner from east on Jasper and struck her on the hip.

She was knocked to the pavement and helped to her feet by another pedestrian. She complained of a sore hip.

The accident occurred at 9:45 p.m.

Business Increases

Edmonton clearing house figures for the month of July were $744,372, as compared to $713,900 for the same period a year ago. This is an increase of $30,472.

No further reduction of allowances is planned for several months in Leduc and Redwater oil fields.

This was announced by I. N. McKinnon, chairman of the Petroleum and Natural Gas Conservation Board.

The action is being taken, Mr. McKinnon said, to give operators further time to make studies of the production possibilities of the fields and to make further representations to the Board at hearings in September.

Present allowances in the two fields expire at the end of July. These provide for a maximum of 130 barrels daily from 122 wells and 100 barrels daily from the 122 wells in the Leduc field and 450 barrels daily from wells in the Redwater field.

However, these limits have not been reached for the past several months because market demands have been slight.

Until further maximum withdrawal rates are imposed, Mr. McKinnon said, the Board was leaving it up to the industry to see that the production and marketing are conducted in an orderly fashion, but the Board reserves the right to impose controls.

Backed from a speeding motorboat captured a canoe half a mile from shore, but again the men were safely brought ashore.

The weather! It was beautiful all week-end.

on the TOWN

By J. D.

Transportation companies operating international routes are daily offering prayers for a simplified passport that will be accepted by immigration officers of all friendly nations.

To those prayers I offer my fervent Amen.

Before taking the C.P. Airlines pre-flight flight to Australia, I ran myself dizzy getting a medical examination, a re-vaccination, a visa, and the United States and territories under the Stars and Stripes and a character reference from our good Chief Constable W. Jennings.

I thought after a similar round of visits to health officials and the like at Vancouver I would be just about all set for the trip. After all I was merely passing through territory of a friendly power to the south of us and was on my way to a sister Commonwealth.

But the party no sooner got aboard the Empress of Sydney than our pretty stewardesses were given a new batch of forms. And this kind of thing went on after every takeoff all the way to Australia.

One of the things I was always told sets of official forms. One was for the enlightenment of immigration authorities. The second was to help out the customs men.

PURPOSE OBVIOUS

Now nobody in our party had the slightest intention of jumping "ship" at any port of call despite the alluring charms of the dancing maidens and the soft balmy breezes of the south sea.

Yet there were forms and more forms all asking the same questions before and after every stop.

One card became quite a joke. It was the one asking where we spent the last 14 nights. Most of us were sedate married men and the fact the immigration men didn't seem to care a hoot where we spent our days was a little embarrassing.

One word merely filled in the two words "In bed" in each of the 14 spaces. I think he got away with it too.

Funny thing about all this red tape is that the immigration and customs officials you think it a lot of hokum.

One chap in Australia put it this way: "Why are we not permitted to accept the word of a young man Canadian officials who have approved of your original documents?"

MIND TREATMENT

Good you were treated with courtesy by all officials both going to and returning from Australia.

At the same time the purpose of the pre-inaugural flight was to acquaint the public with the new airlines and to show them that the airlines were not just a bunch of Canadians, including Senators McKinnon and Targem, but that they were really people.

Just how ordinary you and I would fare on such a long journey if all on our own is something to be thought of.

I was given in understanding that airlines and steamship companies are trying hard for reform in this respect and customs business. They admit frankly all this red tape is detrimental to business and discourages travel.

Nobody seems to know exactly who one form at a point of departure cannot carry the traveler right through to the end of his or her journey. Just why in the world this should be possible for citizens who are members of the British Commonwealth seems hard to understand. As for U.S. what about that $5,000-mile unfortified border that our statesmen love to prate about?

Hundreds Holiday At Lake Resorts

Troops Head North For Mock Battle

More than 1,000 troops and 100 guns were being routed toward the new Northwest Highway System town of Grande Prairie today to take part in the largest joint war game ever held by Canadian Army and Air Force.

The war games, tagged as "Exercise Eagle," start on Thursday and continue three days. Fighting takes place in the Caen region of the new Northwest Highway System town of Grande Prairie today to take part in the largest joint war game ever held by Canadian Army and Air Force.

Everyone seemed to be getting the annual civic holiday but mail carriers, milkmen, and construction workers.

Northern and Central Alberta lake resorts were crowded by Edmontonians and special dance parties were held after midnight Sunday to add to regular resort events.

Only rain to fall in Alberta during the holiday was a drizzle in the Coronation and Edmonton which received between 24 and 35 inches of moisture Saturday night.

Family Still Needs Home

Edmontonians find it difficult to find a home of eight or nine bedrooms.

The C. L. Hunter family are still putting up with the inconveniences of an emergency shelter, the Waterville Community Church across the road from their former home at 9019 106 street.

They moved into the church after being forced to evacuate their home as a result of the flash flood July 16.

"We don't want charity, we just want a home," said Mrs. L. Hunter, 6018 House Road. There is no water in the church, and the crowded house has no single plumbing fixture available to all.

The family are awaiting action from the city for purchase of the Waterville school building from the school board. If the school board consents to sell the building, the L. Hunters will be allowed to live there until they find another home at a price they can meet.

The school building has not been used as such since the 1920s. During the storm on July 16 a flood washed some burst on the building above the basement level.

The main floor of the Waterville home was under almost a foot of mud when the flood came. City health authorities, fearing possible contamination from the water, moved the family to the school building.

When the flood came, the family was not home. The flood was not as high as the one in 1925, but it was still a disaster.

Long Week-end Draws Citizens Out Of Town

Thousands of Edmontonians were back at work today, sunburned and refreshed after a week-end of near-perfect weather.

Railways and bus depots were jammed Saturday, as hundreds of city-dwelling residents left for vacation or to cool country lake in the sun.

Said one hunched railway ticket agent, in describing the mass exodus of Edmontonians, "I think there's all leaving this part of the country."

Adding in the "get out of town" rush were hundreds of other city residents who were beginning their holidays Aug. 1 and were getting a holiday head start.

Bus companies were running extra buses to handle the holiday-makers, and one railway company which has been running extra coaches for the past few weeks found its cars packed with lake-bound holiday-makers.

Everyone seemed to be getting the annual civic holiday but mail carriers, milkmen, and construction workers.

Unsuccessful North Bush Search Ends

Search has been abandoned for Mrs. Catherine Whitlock, missing from her home for the past 10 days.

Residents of the community of Fawcett, 80 miles north of Edmonton, continued searching the swampy bush country during the week-end, but found no trace of the missing Mrs. Whitlock.

Footprints had been found last week, and were believed to be Mrs. Whitlock's, but could not be followed through the bush country.

Search was ended Monday evening, after scores of searchers on foot and horseback were unable to track the only sign yet found of the missing Mrs. Whitlock.
